Suggested Travel Plan (Choice: 1)

That sounds like a fantastic trip! Taipei is a vibrant city with a mix of modern attractions, rich history, and beautiful natural scenery. Let's build a detailed itinerary for your visit.

Day 1: Sunday, 6 July 2025- Arrival and Exploration of Taipei

- Morning

- Arrive in Taipei (TPE). Take a taxi or the Taipei MRT (Mass Rapid Transit) to your accommodation. If you're staying in the Ximending or Zhongshan area, you'll be centrally located for exploring.

- Check-in and freshen up at your hotel.

- Afternoon

- Head to Taipei 101: One of the most iconic landmarks in the city. Visit the observatory on the 89th floor for a stunning view of Taipei. If you're up for a bit of shopping, the mall in Taipei 101 has luxury brands and other fun stores to browse.

- Explore Elephant Mountain (Xiangshan) for a short but steep hike. It offers one of the best views of Taipei, especially with Taipei 101 in the background. The sunset from here is breathtaking.

- Evening

- Have dinner at Din Tai Fung (at Taipei 101 or another location). It's famous for its dumplings, especially the xiao long bao (soup dumplings).

- Explore the vibrant Ximending area. This district is known for its shops, street food, and nightlife. Don't miss a stop at the Red House, a historical site that has a vibrant night market and cultural performances.

Day 2: Monday, 7 July 2025- Temples, Markets, and Culture

- Morning

- Visit the National Palace Museum, which houses one of the largest collections of Chinese imperial artifacts. It's a fascinating place to dive into the history and culture of Taiwan.

- Afternoon

- Head to the Lungshan Temple. This is a stunning historical Buddhist temple in the heart of the city. You can admire the intricate carvings and statues while learning about the local spiritual practices.

- Explore Bopiliao Old Street, just nearby, where you can see preserved colonial-era architecture and shop for souvenirs in old-timey shops.

- Evening

- Dinner at Raohe Street Night Market: This market is famous for its traditional Taiwanese snacks. Try pepper buns, stinky tofu, and bubble tea (if you haven't already).

- Afterward, walk along Songshan Cultural and Creative Park, a creative hub located in an old tobacco factory. The park has cool art exhibitions, shops, and cafes.

Day 3: Tuesday, 8 July 2025- Day Trip to Jiufen & Shifen

- Morning

- Take an early train or bus to Jiufen, a charming hilltop town. Once a gold mining town, Jiufen has narrow lanes, tea houses, and picturesque views of the mountains and ocean. Explore the historic area and visit the Chiufen Old Street, which is full of old-time snacks and souvenirs.

- Afternoon

- Head to Shifen, another nearby town famous for its Shifen Waterfall (Taiwan's largest waterfall) and the Sky Lantern Festival. You can write wishes on a lantern and release it into the sky at the old railway station.

- Evening

- Return to Taipei and have dinner at a local restaurant or head to a night market to explore more street food.

Day 4: Wednesday, 9 July 2025- Nature and Relaxation

- Morning

- Take a trip to Yangmingshan National Park, a beautiful area known for its hot springs, hiking trails, and stunning views. You can explore the Zhongzheng Waterfall or hike up to Qingtiangang Grassland for panoramic views of the city and mountains.

- Afternoon

- Visit the Beitou Hot Springs: After the hike, relax in the hot springs. You can visit the Beitou Hot Springs Museum to learn about the area's history or book a private bath at one of the local resorts.

- Evening

- Dinner at Shilin Night Market: One of the largest and most famous night markets in Taipei. Make sure to try the fried chicken cutlet, oyster omelets, and Taiwanese sausage.

Day 5: Thursday, 10 July 2025- Last Day and Souvenirs

- Morning

- Start your day with a visit to the Taipei Fine Arts Museum or Huashan 1914 Creative Park, a cultural and creative space with exhibitions, performances, and shops.

- Afternoon

- Spend the afternoon shopping for souvenirs at Taipei's Central Market or Wufenpu Garment Wholesale Market for fashionable clothes. You can also buy local tea or snacks.

- Visit the Dihua Street in the Datong District, which has historic shops selling traditional Taiwanese medicines, fabrics, and more. It's a great spot for picking up unique gifts.

- Evening

- Head to Taipei Main Station or your hotel to pick up any last-minute items and take a final stroll around the city.

- Depending on your flight time, enjoy a farewell dinner at a restaurant of your choice before heading to the airport.
